TYPHOON SHIPPING CASUALTIES.

"LAKE GITANO" ASHORE ON STONECUTTERS.

Portuguese Boat Aground: Coal Lighter Sunk.

Although Hongkong missed the full severity of the typhoon the "blow" here was not without incident. The s.s. Lake Gitano, a Shipping Board vessel, is ashore on Stonecutter's Island; a Portuguese river steamer, named the s.s. Constantine, went on a sandbank between Shamshui and Laichikok; whilst a coal lighter belonging to the M.B.K. sank off West Point between buoys No. 43 and 45.

Shortly after midnight, last Saturday night, while the typhoon winds swept Hongkong harbour, the U.S.S.B. freighter, "Lake Gitano" was washed ashore on Stonecutter's Island. Though her bow is well up on the beach, the boat is said to be out of any immediate danger. Immediate action will be taken by the shipping board to float her again, officials stated this morning.

The "Lake Gitano" was formerly employed by the Pacific Mail Company on feeder service between Singapore, Rangoon, Bangkok and Hongkong. Some weeks ago, however, she was turned back to her owners, the U.S. Shipping Board and has been riding at anchor off Stonecutter's Island since that time. At the time of her misfortune the Master, Capt. P. W. Bakeman, a sailor, a cook and several Chinese were aboard. They were at no time in great danger, the reports show.

According to the master of the vessel, the fires have been drawn since she was anchored some time ago. Consequently, when the winds struck her Saturday night, there was no way to stop the dragging of her anchors. Once the huge hooks began to slip the ship is said to have turned completely about and nosed up on the island. Her position is given as just clearing the jetties of rocks near the public bathing beach. She travelled for more than half a mile with both anchors dragging, reports state.

As the vessel was riding light at the time, Shipping Board officials believe it will not be difficult to remove the prow of the boat from the sand. It is understood that no damage has been done to her hull or machinery.

The Lake Gitano is of the U.S.S.B. ocean-going freighter type with a gross tonnage of 2,606. She is 251 feet long, 43.6 feet wide and draws 26.1 feet of water. The "Lake Gitano" was built in Detroit, Michigan, U.S.A., in 1919 by the U.S.S.B. Company. Her engines are of the turbine-screw type.

THE MURDER MYSTERY.

THOUSAND DOLLARS MISSING.

In connection with the supposed murder occurring on premises occupied by a tea-firm on the Central Fringe, last week, when the proprietor's dead body was found packed up in a box, it is learned that a sum of $1,000 was drawn from a local bank by means of a cheque bearing the chop of the firm. This sum was missing from the safe when it was opened by the police.

Nothing further has been heard of the foki, who absconded on the day of the alleged murder.

PARSEE BOOTS' JOURNEY.

A Sofia message of Sept. 11th states: "A boy scout, F. J. Davar, a Parsee of Bombay, who is touring the world on a bicycle, arrived here to-day from Constantinople. While descending a mountain between Haskovo and Harmanli, Davar was attacked by a wild bear and received minor injuries, necessitating treatment. He claims to be the first to cross the dangerous 'road' of the Trans-Caucasian railway."

GERMAN REPARATIONS.

SIR C. ADDIS REPRESENTS BRITAIN.

Berlin, Oct. 5. Sir Charles Addis will be the British representative on the General Council of the Reparations bank under the Dawes reorganisation scheme.—Reuter.

(Sir Charles Addis is too well-known to the Far East to need an introduction to our readers. He is the father of one of Hongkong's most popular lady residents, Mrs. D. G. M. Bernard.)

SANITARY BOARD.

PREVENTION OF PLAGUE.

At to-morrow's meeting of the Sanitary Board, Mr. S. W. Tao will ask:

1. In view of the approaching plague season what measures are being taken by the Board to prevent or mitigate the disease?
1. How many plague cases occurred in the Colony during the last plague season?

OTHER MATTERS.

Other matters on the agenda are:—
Importation of foodstuffs.
Dairy Farm water supply.
Supply of anti-rabic emulsion on Sundays, etc.
Statement on typhoid.
Report from the Government Bacteriologist on the Kowloon, Laichikok, Chaiwan and Shauiwan water supplies for the month of August and on the Albany, Bowen Road, Aberdeen, Elliott and Pokfulam water supplies for the month of September, 1921, together with minutes from the Water Authority.

MACAO AVIATION.

HONGKONG AIRMEN'S VISIT.

We reported, on Saturday, the departure of Mr. A. H. Rowe, of the Taxicab Company, for Macao, with a pilot, in his Curtiss "Oriole" aeroplane, on Friday evening. Our Macao correspondent writes to say that the plane arrived about 6 o'clock, causing much interest and no little excitement among the public, the police having great difficulty in controlling the big crowds that gathered.

The pilot made several graceful evolutions, and then landed after circling the aviation field.

Our correspondent adds that Saturday was to be the first afternoon of a three-day exhibition, in which aerial stunts were to be given. Great crowds were expected to patronise the show in view of its being the Portuguese national festival. Mr. Harry Abbott, who was to do the "stunting", left for Macao by steamer on Saturday morning. It is to be feared, however, that the typhoon weather has necessitated the abandonment of the exhibition program.

"LITTLE HEAVEN."

SOLDIER'S DESCRIPTION OF HONGKONG.

Recently, one of the soldiers of the 2nd Battalion of the King's Regiment, stationed at Chakrata, India (whither the battalion went from Hongkong) wrote asking us to send a few copies of the Telegraph so that the Tommies might get a bit of Hongkong news. We accordingly sent a batch of papers, and in writing us to express thanks for same, the recipient says:—"Everybody has been delighted to get a little news about Little Heaven, as they call it, so you can see how your paper was welcomed. The lads have told me to thank you for them because when reading the Telegraph it makes them feel at home."

The writer continues:—"The Battalion team has gone away to try and win the Indian Army Football Cup, but I am afraid they will come back beaten. We have lost Mr. Jones, who, we believe, has gone to Hongkong to make his home there, and a few more have gone home to the United Kingdom, so we haven't a very good team."

A thing that is missed, greatly here amongst the troops, is Saturday football, and often a remark is passed to the effect that "I would give three months' pay to get back to Hongkong again. Everybody much regrets to have left such a place, and they all feel the difference between Little Heaven and Chakrata."

ROUGH SEA TRIP.

N.Y.K. BOAT IN TYPHOON.

European Lady Passenger Injured.

En route to Hongkong from Singapore the N.Y.K. liner Hakone Maru encountered a hundred mile an hour wind and high seas. For more than six hours, her officers say, the big ship was buffeted about, but was able to weather the gale without damage.

During the typhoon, several of the passengers were badly shaken up, and one lady, Mrs. J. A. Fraser, was severely injured about the face by a fall down a hatchway from one deck to the deck below. The ship's surgeon attended her and upon arrival in Hongkong she was placed in the Government Civil Hospital where she is reported to be recovering.

At one time early on Sunday morning, according to one of the passengers who was himself a mariner, the barometer registered as low as 28.42. This is the lowest mark registered in the records of the typhoon to date.

So rough was the sea that lifeboats and all dock equipment had to be lashed fast. As it was, hatch tops, deck railings and hoist riggings were blown about some of it completely off the ship. The boat was slowed to almost half its regular speed; hence its arrival nearly 36 hours late.

"She's a good ship," said one of the Hakone's officers. "We do not often pass through a worse 'blow' than the one on Saturday night, but she rode through on an even keel. It was only when the high seas threw her propeller entirely out of the water that any vibration was felt."

The Hakone Maru will sail this evening, weather permitting for Shanghai and Japanese ports.

WATCHMAN FINED.

DAMAGE TO MOTOR CAR.

Charges of damaging the cushions of Mr. E. W. Bell Hope's motor car to the extent of $1 and of neglect of duty, were preferred against a watchman, employed at the Kowloon Godown Company, before Mr. E. W. Hamilton, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Mr. R. Packham prosecuted on the second charge, while Mr. H. C. Lee defended on both charges, and pleaded guilty.

Mr. Hamilton pointed out to the defendant that he would be probably be thrashed if he were caught by the owner.

Mr. Lee:—As a matter of fact he was thrashed.

Mr. Hope told his Worship that he had just returned from the Volunteer Headquarters and had "dumped" all the equipment into the car, with the result that defendant was suddenly awakened.

Defendant was cautioned on the first charge and ordered to pay $1 to Mr. Hope, and was fined $5, with the alternative of seven days' hard labour, on the second offence.

OUR HOUSING LAWS.

THE GOVERNOR'S POWERS QUESTIONED.

An important action concerning the powers of the Governor-in-Council was commenced in the Summary Court this morning before Mr. Justice Dyer Hall. It was a case in which the landlords of Nos. 68, 69 and 70, Queen's Road East sought possession of the premises under Section 4 (1) (f) of the Rents Ordinance, and the defence was that the Governor-in-Council on the 29th May ordered that the provisions of Section 4 (1) (f) should not apply to these three houses.

Mr. Eldon Potter, K.C., appeared for the plaintiffs, and Mr. C.A.S. Puss and Mr. D. MacCallum defended.

Mr. Potter, in his opening, said that his Lordship was probably surprised to find that it was possible for any further point to rise under the Rents Ordinance, but he (Mr. Potter) thought there was now a large field of argument opened up by the decision of the Governor-in-Council in the present case. The Governor had acted under Section 24 of the Ordinance, which said that it was lawful for the Governor to exempt from the provisions, or any specific provision, of the Ordinance any domestic tenement, if he thought circumstances warranted the exemption. If the section was construed literally, it would lead to most extraordinary absurdities and the greatest injustice. It would mean that the Governor could set aside the whole of the case law. It would mean that the Governor could deprive the landlord of the few rights left him under the Ordinance. It could not be understood how the Executive Council could have believed that Section 24 was passed to give the Governor the power he had exercised. The Governor could, if the section was construed literally, allow a tenant to remain in possession even if he failed to carry out all or any of the conditions of the tenancy. Section 2 (3) exempted hotels and boarding houses, but "the Governor could say that that section did not apply in the case of the Hongkong Hotel, and I could stay in the hotel as long as I liked and they could not turn me out."

Mr. Rues:—The Governor could leave out all the verbs.

Mr. Potter:—Yes; he could do anything.

Mr. Potter submitted that the real intention of Section 24 was that the Legislative Council having passed an Ordinance depriving landlords of their common law rights put in a clause which gave the Governor in Council the right to give him back those rights if he thought expedient.

Mr. Potter quoted many cases in support of his submission, in which it was laid down that where more than one meaning could be given to a section, and where literally it caused injustice, the meaning which gave no injustice should be applied.

Mr. Potter's second point was that the construction placed on the section by the Governor was ultra vires. No body except the Legislative Council could deprive a man of his statutory or common law rights. What Mr. Potter described as "the royal road" through the section constituted his third point. He said that the Governor had wrongly interpreted the word "provision." The Governor could not pick out bits of a section and say that portion shall not apply. It must mean the whole of Section 4, if any part at all.

Continuing, Mr. Potter said that the Courts had held that a part of the section made law in March was not retrospective in operation. Once a notice to quit had been given, the landlord had a vested right to possession of the property, and if the Governor-in-Council was right, he could, after the notice to quit had been given, deprive him of that vested right. He considered that the Governor was endeavouring to supply the want of a desirable certificate. Mr. Potter also formally submitted that no order

THE PRINCIPLES OF FASCISM.

A NATION'S NEED OF DISCIPLINE.

Milan, October 5. "A Government composed of mediocrities which is continuous, is better than a Government of geniuses which is subject to interruption."

"No nation becomes powerful unless disciplined."

These two dicta were enunciated by Signor Mussolini in a speech to the Constitutional Association in which the Premier reviewed the achievements of Fascism, its social legislation, its respect for the King, the Church, and the Constitution, which had made it a world-wide topic during the past two years, drawing many from as far as China, Japan and Australia to study it. "Evidently these countries are suffering from lack of authority, as Italy, was before October, 1922."

He announced the reopening of Parliament on November 10th, in order to discuss the decree laws and international treaties, Budget reorganisation, and the Army. The Fascists desired peace among the parties, but their opponents must first accept established facts.—Reuter.

LOAN FOR FINLAND.

Helsingfors, Oct. 5.

A group comprising the municipal authorities of twenty-eight Finnish towns has concluded arrangements with the National City Bank of New York and the National City Company, to float a thirty years' seven million dollars loan, bearing interest at the rate of six and a half per cent.—Reuter.

of that description could be made in the absence of the plaintiff.

Mr. Rues said that the Ordinance was passed for the protection of the tenants. The amended Ordinance, with Section 24 included, was submitted to the Secretary of State for the Colonies and the Governor was duly informed that the King did not propose to exercise his prerogative. The language of the section was perfectly clear and the only way Mr. Potter sought to induce his Lordship to give a stange interpretation of the language was to try and induce his Lordship to believe that the result of allowing orders to be made under this section would be ridiculous. When powers were delegated, one was entitled to assume that they would be exercised properly. Of course the Governor might do ridiculous things, but he had not done so. There was no injustice in the present case. Mr. Potter's argument, balled down, meant that if the Governor desired to act absurdly, he could do so; therefore the whole thing was bad. Mr. Potter had said it was absurd to allow a man to stay without paying rent, but was it absurd when they had a Labour Government in power? Ask Mr. Maxton and a few other of our eminent politicians.

Mr. Potter:—Would he also approve of the Immorality section? Mr. Rues:—If we had a Labour Government, he might do all he wished in that respect, and it would not be any error. His Lordship:—We should probably have a landlord strike. (Laughter.) The case is proceeding.

BAD COINS.

FOUND ON BUS CONDUCTOR.

A bus conductor employed by the Kowloon Motor Bus Company was charged on remand, at Kowloon Magistracy, before Mr. E. W. Hamilton, with uttering a counterfeit 10-cent piece and also with being in possession of ten other counterfeit coins. Mr. H. C. Lee defended, and Mr. R. E. A. Webster watched the case on behalf of the Company.

Mr. L. S. Tang, manager of the Kowloon branch of the Company, stated that he had received complaints from passengers that bad money was being given as change by the Company's conductor. At 8 p.m. on the 1st instant, witness saw defendant brought into the office by a District Watchman. Witness examined defendant's money-bag, which consisted of three compartments, and he found ten counterfeit 10-cent pieces in one compartment. There was no other bad money in the bag. One of the Company's regulations was that if a conductor gave the shroff any bad money, the conductor would be handed it back and would have to replace the loss. There was no regulation forbidding conductors from carrying their own personal money together with that of the Company. The case was adjourned until Thursday.

CHINA'S OPIUM EVIL.

Y.M.C.A. MANIFESTO.

The following copy of the Anti-opium Manifesto of the Young Men's Christian Associations of China is sent for publication:

"Opium has held its venomous sway in China for over a century, doing incalculable harm to the people. In the early years of the Republic the law forbidding its cultivation, importation and consumption was energetically enforced, and for a time there was the hope of the complete extinction of the drug.

"During the last few years, however, owing to the continuation of internal unrest, civil war, and the repeated visitations of floods and famine, the prohibition of opium has gradually fallen into neglect. As a result there is a renaissance of the evil which threatens once more to make this land its domain. If this is allowed to happen it will mean the deterioration of the nation's physical strength, the destruction of its moral character, and the country will be reduced irrevocably to a position of forlornness and hopelessness.

"The question also has its international significance. If the opium evil is allowed to spread in China it will not only mean the loss of honour and respect for the countries concerned in its perpetuation, but it will endanger the existence of the great Chinese race among the family of nations. May we stop to think over the seriousness of the situation!

"The League of Nations realizing the gravity of the situation has called an anti-opium conference to be participated in by countries in the East and those having possessions in the East. This Conference, which is to take place in Geneva, Switzerland, this November, while considering the limitation of the cultivation, production and consumption of opium in the entire world, will pay special attention to conditions in China. This is therefore an opportune time for the nation to arise and make a resolute effort to rid the country of its curse. On the one hand we should enlist the cooperation of the whole nation and conduct an internal campaign which will put an end to opium once and for all time; on the other, we should demonstrate to the entire world our determination to rid ourselves of this evil.

Resolutions.

"The Young Men's Christian Association of China has for its objective the building of all-round Christian character through a program embracing the spiritual, intellectual, physical and social development of the young manhood of China. The Association has always opposed the opium evil as being most detrimental to this four-fold development. In view of the present urgent situation the National Committee of the Young Men's Christian Associations of China adopted, at its Annual Meeting July 30-31, 1924, the following resolutions:

Resolution 5:—The National Committee of the Y.M.C.A. at its Annual Meeting expresses itself unequivocally as being opposed to the opium evil.

Resolution 6:—Our local Associations in cooperation with organizations within and without the Church should do their utmost to assist to eradicate the opium evil.
Foreign friends willing to co-operate will be welcomed as advisors.

We shall heartily approve the adoption of measures by the Anti-

Opium Conference at Geneva to be held under the auspices of the League of Nations this November for the limitation of the production and consumption of opium, morphine and other narcotic derivatives.

An Anti-Narcotic Committee consisting of Secretaries of the National Committee has been specially appointed to promote a nation-wide anti-opium campaign.

In consequence of these actions
the National Committee in cooperation with over thirty other organizations including the National Christian Council, the Association for the Advancement of Education, the Kiangsu Educational Association, the China Medical Association and the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce took action to promote and organize a National Anti-Opium Association, which now includes over thirty national and local organizations, whose united efforts now make the beginning of a general campaign to free the country of opium.

The 510 City and Student Young Men's Christian Associations spread over the whole country have been requested to take energetic measures, in cooperation with local bodies, to promote a campaign of opium extermination, which must be dealt with from the aspects of complete cessation of cultivation, transportation and consumption.

The Young Men's Christian Association has definitely committed itself to the carrying out of this programme and will not cease until the nation is emancipated from the opium evil and until the opium menace has become a thing of the past.

This is as much the duty of the whole nation as it is that of the Y.M.C.A. whose purpose is to serve the nation in the best way possible.
May all of us, citizens of this land, arise and join in this crusade against the common enemy and continue until victory is ours!

McGraw's Record.

By beating Philadelphia on September 27 and thus clinching the National League flag, Manager McGraw of the New York Giants has established a major league record which will probably stand for a long time—that of winning his fourth consecutive pennant.
He has now ten pennants to his credit since he came to manage the Giants in 1902. Connie Mack, manager of the Philadelphia Athletics, is next in the number of pennants won with six to his credit.

The Giants had an easy time of it during the first half of the season, but during the second half were pressed for the lead. There was a time when they were leading the league by a single point, but they rose to the occasion every time they were threatened and were never passed.

Youth v. Experience.

In the American League Washington had a hard time sinking off New York and in coming out on top they brought the first pennant to the capital city since its entrance to the American League in 1901.

of the team, who is in his first year as a major league pilot. The world series will now be between the

The Giants were the National League champions in 1904, 1905,
1911, 1912, 1918, 1917, 1921, 1923, 1928, and 1924. They missed their everything in their way and beat the mighty Giants. The Yankees won their first flag in 1921 and re-

CRICKET.

INTERPORT TRIAL BEGUN.

Despite the look of the weather, the interport trial at the Hongkong Cricket Club ground was begun on Saturday, but after five overs the game had to be abandoned. Mr. T. E. Pearce won the toss and sent in Rutjaka and Dalhatchat, but the former was caught off Bowker in the first over, before a run had been scored. Armstrong, who followed in, was caught first ball by the bowler. More followed, and was twice narrowly missed off Webster. Dalhatchat was clean bowled, and More and West remained together until the game was abandoned. Scores—

TEST TEAM AT COLOMBO.

CEYLON DEFEATED.

Colombo, Oct. 4. The M. C. C. cricket team, which is en route to Australia, defeated Ceylon in a one-day match by 15 runs on the first innings. The M. C. C. scored 73 in their first innings, Gresswell taking eight wickets for 38 runs. Ceylon replied with 58, B. T. T. T. taking four for 25. In their second venture the tourists had scored 114 for four wickets, of which Chapman made 70, when the game finished. —Reuter.

FOOTBALL.

THE CHINESE TOURISTS.

Otago, N.Z., Aug. 28.—With the second test match at Wellington last Saturday, the Chinese team completed their tour of the North Island, having played twelve matches, including two tests. Financially, up to the present, the tour has been a big success. The exact figures are not available, but if the public interest holds out for the remaining matches of the tour approaching that shown to date, a fairly substantial profit should result.

The detail results of the games played to this date are:—

The visitors left Wellington on Monday night by the s.s. Maori, and travelled through to Timaru, where they met South Canterbury yesterday. They return to Christchurch to-day to meet Canterbury on August 30, and on Monday are due to arrive in Dunedin to play Otago on September 3 and New Zealand in the third test on September 6. During their stay in Dunedin they will be quartered at the City Hotel.

A comprehensive programme of entertainment has been arranged by the local association, assisted by a committee of the local Chinese, headed by Messrs. Sew Hoy and Yut Lee. The Chinese residents in Dunedin have contributed liberally to the entertainment fund, and have done everything possible that their countrymen will have an enjoyable stay in this city. —Daily Times.

BRITISH STEAMER CAPTURED.

London, Oct. 4.—A British steamer has been towed into harbour with a crew of twenty-eight men and two women under an armed guard, alleged to have a cargo of liquor on board worth half a million dollars. Prohibition officials claim connection between the vessel's seizure and the discovery of a gigantic British and American rum-running conspiracy, involving ten million dollars. —Reuter's American Service.

GOT INDIGESTION?

Here's news for you!

Do you realise that nine cases of digestive trouble out of every ten are caused by excess acidity in the stomach and that this is easily neutralised? It's a fact, and you can demonstrate it by taking a couple of Bisurated Magnesia Tablets next time you get an attack of stomach pain. Notice the ease, the instant relief which these tablets bring. That's because they neutralise the pain-causing acid the moment they enter the stomach. Bisurated Magnesia Tablets are the finest things out for imparting health, strength and vigour to the vital organs, and you can get these wonderful tablets cheaply at any chemist's. When buying look at the wrapper to make sure that what you have got is Bisurated Magnesia, as this ensures your getting the one thing that does give sure and instant relief. If you see the oval BISMAG trademark you'll know your's safe.

SIR ROBERT HO TUNG.

DEPARTURE FROM LISBON.

Lisbon, October 4.—Many prominent officials were present at the station to say farewell to Sir Robert Ho Tung, including the Secretary of the Colonies, the Minister at Peking, the ex-Governor of Macao, a number of Senators, Deputies and Representatives, the Foreign Minister and the Chinese Minister.—Pester.

PORTUGUESE NATIONAL DAY.

SATURDAY'S CELEBRATIONS.

The Lusitano Club held a reception on Saturday on the occasion of the anniversary of the Portuguese Republic, most of the Portuguese residents attending. As in previous years invitations were sent to Government officials and other prominent people. Among those present at the reception were Captain Neville, A. D. C. (representing H. E. the Governor), the General Officer Commanding, (Major General Sir John Fowler), Commodore H. E. Grace, Sir Claud Severn, K.B.E., C.M.G., (the Colonial Secretary), Mr. Justino Gompertz, (acting Chief Justice), Mr. Dyer Ball, Hon. Mr. R. H. Kotewall, Senhor Albuquerque Castro, (Portuguese Consul), the Consul and Vice-Consul for America, the Consul for Italy, the Consul for Peru, the Dutch Consul, and the Consul for Brazil, Mr. Chau Siu-kiu, Mr. Li Po-kwai, (Chairman of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce), and Mr. A. Meirelles, (Colonial Treasurer of Macao).

The Portuguese Consul made a short speech, expressing pleasure at being present at such a national gathering, which helped to arouse patriotic sentiments among the Portuguese community.

The Club de Recreio, Kowloon, celebrated the day with a garden party for children, but owing to the typhoon weather the celebrations were held indoors. After tea prizes specially provided by the Portuguese Mutual Benefit Society for children who excelled in Portuguese at the various local schools, were distributed.

Unofficial functions were held at both the Club Lusitano and the Club de Recreio in the evening. The premises of the latter Club were tastefully illuminated as were the spacious grounds, but the outdoor part of the evening's entertainment had to be abandoned owing to the typhoon weather which prevailed.

THE CHINA WAR.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Oct. 5.
There are no developments in the struggle and the lines remain unchanged.

Mukden, Oct. 4.
Chang Tso-lin has captured Chihlung, according to a confirmation report from Lingyuan. Much material was captured after several hours' very hard fighting. There were heavy Chihli casualties. Chang has ordered the Shanhaikuan army not to advance hastily but to carefully prepare their attack.—Reuter.

Later.
Chang Tso-lin's headquarters reports that part of the third brigade under General Chang Tsung-chang cut off the retreat of the Chihli troops at Chapeng, southwest of Lingyuan, and captured one mixed brigade fully equipped. It also reports that the thirteenth and ninth divisions of the Chihli army were scattered and pursued by the Fengtien troops who captured numerous guns, rifles, horses and military stores.—Reuter.

Peking, Oct. 5.
The North China Standard reports that the Chantilly left Hongkong on the 28th ult. direct for Yinkow where aeroplanes were quickly landed and handed over to Chang Tso-lin's representatives, who were awaited there.

The cruiser Hui-chi and the gunboat Hsuyun on the 3rd captured a Fengtien small war vessel near Taohu island where she was making with two guns, supplies and ammunition.

President Tsao Kun has given a reward of $10,000 for the capture of the vessel also $5,000 to the gunner who recently shot down a Mukden aeroplane on the Shanhaikuan front.

Official reports state that Government troops captured Hing-chuangku on the Shanhaikuan front.

Tu Hsi-kuei and Chin Yun-peng have arrived in Peking.—Reuter.

AERONAUTICS.

London, Oct. 4.
The prize winners in the Lympne trials were: Air Ministry's £2,000, a Beardmore monoplane, piloted by Piercey; Air Ministry's £1,000, a Bristol Brownie monoplane, piloted by Uwins; Duke of Sutherland's £500 for taking off and pulling up, first, Bristol Brownie, piloted by Uwins; second, £100, Hawker Cygnet biplane, piloted by Raynham; reliability prize £300, Craywell Air Force biplane, piloted by Flight Lieutenant Camper. The hundred mile open race for the Grosvenor Cup was won by the Australian Hinkler flying an Avro Avia in one hour 31 minutes and five seconds.—Reuter.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND SENSATION.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Oct. 3.

At the conclusion of the Magisterial enquiry into the criminal charges against ex-Premier Squires, the Magistrate announced there was sufficient prima facie evidence to justify him committing Squires for trial at the Supreme Court. Squires reiterated absolute denial of any complicity.—Reuter.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST SALESROOMS

The salesroom of the New York Branch of the Buick Motor Company at 55th Street and Broadway, New York, sells and delivers more cars and more dollars worth of automobiles than any other salesroom in the world. And its sales are increasing all the time.

This Buick Branch delivered, during 1923, 24,565 new Buicks, representing a cash value of $39,591,918. In 1924, it is expected that about 30,000 cars will be delivered, a business of over $50,000,000. Few if any of the great New York department stores will do as great a volume of business.

From August 1, 1923, to May 16, 1924, deliveries of this Branch amounted to 20,139 Buicks as compared with 16,295, deliveries for the same period the preceding year. This represents an increase of 3,844 cars, or a 23.1% gain. Sales of this Branch for the first two weeks of May 1924, were 1,231 Buicks as compared with 945 sold in the same period last year. This is an increase of over 30%. It is no wonder that a record breaking volume of business is expected for the new season.

Because the value of Buick output has each year been greater than that of any other exhibitor, Buick has held first place in every National Automobile Show in the United States during the last six years. In 1923, Buick sold 218,516 motor cars, representing a value of $302,752,950 not including war tax or freight. In the New York district alone 12-5/10% of the 88,026 new cars sold in 1923 were Buicks.

THE CINEMA.

Those who, whilst realising the excellence of many American cinema films, think the time has come when European pictures should be produced in greater numbers, will be interested to learn of a scheme which has been suggested in Berlin with this end in view. Mass production, as in America, is regarded not only as impossible but undesirable in Europe at present, and the reasons given are that British technical equipment is too poor; Austria has good ideas which she cannot stage magnificently because of her poverty; Sweden, with a peculiarly intellectual appeal, is cramped for the same reason; and France, and Italy need both money and ideas, with the cosmopolitan touch from outside.

To meet the difficulty, it has been suggested in Berlin that twelve big films be produced in Europe every year, two to be manufactured in Germany, Austria, England, France, Italy and Sweden respectively. The best film directors of these countries, and America as well, are to be consulted in regard to production, and each country will bear a percentage of the expense, at the same time sharing in the profits to the extent of one-third, the rest to go to the syndicate. The cost of each picture is put at about $200,000, of which about twenty-five per cent. will be spent in advertising. One of the conditions is that the scenario of every film must be either the work of an author of reputation, or the dramatisation of a famous story.

The scheme appears to be directed against the flood of American production, but it seems doubtful if the United States will remain outside any such big combination. It is thought that the final result may be a big film trust, which will undertake the production of really international pictures, with a particular idea of excluding the purely local element. That there is room for such a plan would appear indisputable, but whether it can be placed on a satisfactory financial basis is quite another question. This much we do say, however, without in any way discussing the reason for the present predominance of American films—that British exiles abroad would certainly appreciate more European pictures than are under present conditions available.

Seeking Preferments.

It must have come as something of a surprise to the public to learn that certain Colonial Government civil servants have sought preferment—the official term is promotion—by approaching the Secretary of State for the Colonies either directly or through friends. Such a practice cannot be too strongly discouraged, and we are glad to observe how promptly the Secretary of State has issued a warning to offenders and intending offenders alike. That this seeking of promotion by the use of influence is an offence, cannot be denied. It is calculated to arouse considerable discontent in the Government service, owing to the stirring up of jealousies, especially among those who are unable to hope for preferment. It is a practice which can lead to the accusation that a post in the Civil Service was given to So-and-so because he had "influence," the mysterious asset which is unfortunately not unconnected with the public services in most places. This was evidently realised as far back as 1911, for the notification quotes a circular despatch from the late Viscount Harcourt condemning such attempts to secure over fellow officials in the Colonial services. The notice concludes with a grave hint as to the possibility of this seeking unfairly for promotion leading to the aspirants actually being in a worse position than before. The despatch will no doubt be read, marked, learned and inwardly digested by the Civil Service in all the Crown Colonies, and with salutary effect.

Moslem Problems.

The British Government is faced with serious problems in Egypt and Arabia, and not the least grave part of the matter is the religious side of the question. The unrest in Egypt is not directly religious, but the hostility towards Britain can easily be traced to the Turkish influence, and this works best by emphasis on the related interests of Moslem Turkey and the Moslem Egyptians. That same influence can be traced to Mesopotamia, where the Iraq invasion has created a tense situation which might lead to a conflagration of greater import at any time. But looming most blackly on the horizon of British foreign affairs in Asia at present is the Hedjaz rebellion. In the late war, British diplomacy scored a triumph by obtaining the valuable assistance of the Emir Hussein and his following of Arabs in ousting the hated Turkish administration. The Emir was rewarded, and his position consolidated, by the creation of the independent State of Hedjaz with him as King. The importance of this territory in Moslem eyes cannot be overstated, with the holy city of Mecca its capital, and all the Mohammedan relics in its keeping. The rebellion aimed against the King of the Hedjaz has led to his abdication, and it is a matter of grave concern who will succeed to the post of ruler of this important area. It has been in the interests of Britain to have a friendly authority controlling the holy land of Mohammedanism, in view of the many millions of followers of Islam who dwell in the British Empire. Were anything to transpire which could shake the confidence of those millions in British protection, the general consequences might be far-reaching. We trust that no time will be lost in placing the matter of the Hedjaz in capable hands, and that where firmness might be necessary there will be none of that hesitation which can be misinterpreted for vacillation.

GIRLS FIGHT A DUEL.

Being rivals for the love of an Italian warehouseman, two young women of 17, near Naples, fought a duel in a field. One, after a bitter struggle, disarmed her rival, who was so badly injured that she had to be taken to hospital. The winning girl was taken into custody.

A sale of work will be held at the Helena May Institute tomorrow afternoon, from 3 to 5 p.m., in aid of the Mothers' Union funds. Useful and fancy goods will be on sale, and a speciality will be made of cakes and sweets.

"Little Cafe," which is now showing at the World Theatre, is a bright comedy production with Max Linder as comedian. Every reel is packed with a thousand laughs, as one side-splitting situation follows another, till they reach a climax of roaring hilarity.

For stealing an electric fan from a matted in Cameron Road, two young Chinese were sentenced to 12 strokes of the cane and 14 days' hard labour respectively, by Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning. Defendants were originally arrested for being in possession of the fan at Cooke Street, Hungghom.

Mr. S. A. Hardoon, of Shanghai, who is well-known for his philanthropic work in China, has just been the recipient of a decoration from the Chinese Government. The first class decoration of the "Chao Wu" Order with Big Bolt has been conferred upon him by the President of China. It is believed that this is the highest honour ever conferred upon a foreigner by the Government.

The special carnival dance at the grill room of the Hongkong Hotel on Saturday night was a huge success, a large gathering assembling and showing their appreciation of the splendid dance music supplied by Mr. Whitely Smith's orchestra. These talented musicians make their final appearance at the Repulse Bay on Wednesday night, when a special dinner dance will be held.

Saturday's bad weather caused a cancellation of all local sporting fixtures. In the Junior Football League, South China "A" and the Surrey Reserves started their match and had played ten minutes into the second half when the referee (Mr. Frank Smith) was compelled to stop the game on account of the state of the ground. At this stage the Chinese were leading by two goals to one. The Surrey Boxing Tournament has been postponed until Wednesday night.

TO-DAY'S MISCELLANY.

To what extent are fever germs "carriers"—people whose normal health betrays no warning symptoms—adanger to the community? That there is peril is evidenced in a report from Scotland which states that "one female carrier was responsible for causing about 100 cases of enteric fever" before she reached an institution.

The Board of Control for Scotland refers to this matter in the annual review of its general work, just issued, and it notes that there are in Scottish asylums 13 female carriers and one male carrier of enteric, and one female carrier of paratyphoid B fever. In one instance, it is stated, it seemed, falling actual proof, that infection might have been carried by a cat which was fondled by typhoid carriers and other inmates of an institution. Professor Brownlow, of Glasgow University, is making researches concerning carrier dangers, and, though results are not yet available, it is mentioned that, much new information has been shed on the causation of these conditions which permit of individuals carrying an infectious organism in their body without exhibiting symptoms of the disease. Investigations as to treatment are also well advanced, and are of a hopeful nature.

BAG-SNATCHING.

IN HONGKONG AND KOWLOON.

Two cases of bag-snatching, with ladies the victims in both instances, are reported over the week-end.

On Saturday, in the forenoon, Mrs. Deacon, of No. 12 Broadwood Road, was walking down from her house towards Wongschoong Road, when three Chinese suddenly accosted her and snatched her small handbag, containing about $31 in money, and then wrenched off a gold bracelet and wrist watch and a crystal necklace which she was wearing. These articles are valued at $60. On recovering her feet after having been violently thrown on the ground, Mrs. Deacon gave the alarm and Dr. Aubrey, who heard the cry, took up the chase after the robbers, but lost sight of them near the site of the now Queen's College.

The men ran down a path in the direction of Causeway Bay, and got clear away. No arrests have been made so far.

A snatcher in Kowloon was not so fortunate. On Saturday afternoon Mrs. Westley, of Aimal Villas, was walking along Chatham Road carrying some parcels and a handbag, and when she was near the Carnarvon Road end a Chinese of the coolie class snatched the bag from behind. Mrs. Westley immediately gave chase, calling for help, and kept the man in view for a considerable distance. Eventually two Portuguese came along, and they joined in and caught the man. He was found to be without anything in his possession, however, and it is surmised that he threw the bag away, while running. Just then, a coolie came up with the bag, and asked for ransom. He said he had picked it up in some waste land, which the fugitive had passed a few minutes previously. The handbag contained money and jewellery to the value of $350. The snatcher was duly handed over to the police.

SENT TO GAOL.

"If you choose to steal from women, you will have to pay for it. I am going to show you that you cannot steal from European ladies, or any ladies." These remarks were addressed by Mr. E. W. Hamilton to a young Chinese, who appeared at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning on the charge of snatching a handbag from Mrs. Westley.

Sub-Inspector Moody told the Court that Mrs. Westley was walking down Chatham Road on Saturday afternoon carrying her bag in her hand. The defendant approached her from behind and snatched her purse. He then took to his heels and ran into Chatham Road and then turned into "Kimberley Road," when he was chased by a number of small boys. After running into Carnarvon Road, he was arrested by two Portuguese gentlemen. He had thrown the bag away during his flight.

Defendant, who had a previous conviction for larceny, was sentenced to six months' hard labour and 12 strokes of the birch.

STOLEN LOTIONS.

FROM WATSON'S FACTORY.

Three months' hard labour was today passed on a woman for the theft of sundry bottles of lotions and perfumes from Messrs. A. S. Watson's factory at North Point, and also on a man who admitted to having received the stolen goods from her with the view to their disposal elsewhere.

The case came up before Mr. R. E. Lindell, when it was stated that the man was arrested in Wanchai and following a confession which the police obtained from him a subsequent visit was made to the house of the woman at West Point. In her cubicle another lot of goods similar to that found on the man was recovered.

Mr. D. Wilson, of Messrs. A. S. Watson and Co., informed the Court that the first defendant was the only woman packer they had at their laboratory at North Point, and was not searched when leaving the premises. She had been employed for six years, and during that time had an opportunity to make away with quite a large quantity of goods. He thought that in the past year something like a thousand dollars' worth of goods had been stolen from the factory. The man was at one time employed there, but was dismissed.

After being told of the woman's long service and of the amount of her wages, which was $12 a month, his Worship said:—"You have been employed there six years on a good wage and you

TYPHOON WEATHER.

WEEK-END OF RAIN AND GALES.

The worst did not happen over the week-end, as Hongkong escaped the typhoon that was threatening (and which passed 150 miles to the South towards Hailow), but there was sufficient atmospheric disturbance to make Saturday and Sunday two of the most miserable days experienced this year. High winds, with occasional squalls of gale force, and heavy rain, made all idea of outdoor recreation impossible, and the small craft in the harbour had to keep to shelter for practically the whole week-end.

Just after two o'clock on Saturday afternoon there was a fall of rain, the preliminary to further downpours. All cricket and football fixtures were necessarily "off," though a start was actually made in the Interport cricket practice match. By Saturday evening the high wind had cleared the harbour of all the small vessels except the "Star" ferries, and they were stripped of awnings and subject to stoppage at any moment, the red flag having gone up. The Yumaita ferry service was stopped as soon as conditions worsened. Many ships took shelter in Kowloon Bay and at the Lalchikok anchorage. Among the vessels which were moored in the harbour was the French gunboat in the naval anchorage, at times nearly smothered by the waves.

THE STORM PASSES.

The No. 4 signal was lowered soon after 9 o'clock yesterday morning, and a few of the more daring motor-boats and sampans ventured forth. The heavy weather, however, continued throughout the day, and most of the craft kept to their shelters.

Three ships at sea to the south-west of Hongkong experienced strong gales, and wireless their position and other details, so that the exact position of the typhoon was ascertained by the Observatory. The s.s. City of Durban and the s.s. Kang Yuen reported wind of force 10; and the s.s. Chukwa Maru, at 7.20 yesterday morning, off Hailow, experienced the full force of the typhoon, reporting a wind velocity of 12. The highest squall velocity recorded in Hongkong was 60 miles an hour, at 1.55 a.m. yesterday.

DAMAGE DONE.

The strong wind and heavy rain has naturally done some damage, though apart from small washaways, the blowing down of hoardings and sheds, and the snapping of tree branches, no serious harm appears to have resulted from the stormy weather. The fall of rain was 4.51 inches between 2 p.m. on Saturday and 2 p.m. yesterday, and considerably more followed, so that roadways and banks will have suffered erosion. The P. W.D. will be kept busy for some time on inspection and repair work.

Happy Valley, as usual, was flooded, and the deposit of silt will probably make racing impossible next Saturday. The nullah from Wongschoong village, which has previously given so much trouble, was again breached, so that the flood waters found an outlet across the top end of the racecourse, also damaging some of the golf greens.

SHIPPING CASUALTIES.

There were several shipping casualties, including the stranding of an ocean-going steamer on Stonecutters Island. These are fully reported in another column of this issue.

A FATALITY.

A big landslide at Belobers Street has completely blocked up the roadway. Other slides of a minor nature also occurred in different parts of the mainland. A fatality also occurred on account of the typhoon. The heavy rains had converted the nullah at Causeway Bay into a swollen stream, and planks of wood were taken up and washed into the Bay from a yard belonging to a contractor behind the Police Station. In endeavouring to recover the wood, a coolie slipped and fell into the water, with the result that he also was carried away. The body has not been recovered.

The Hongkong Observatory reports that at 6 o'clock this morning the typhoon was less than 100 miles east-south-east of Hailow, moving west.

have abused the confidence of your employers." And to the man his Worship said:—"You have been helping the first defendant to dispose of the goods the whole time."

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

BANK v. HONGKONG
FOOTBALL CLUB.

[BY "TOUCHLINE"]

On Saturday last, the Rugby season opened with a game between the Club and the Hongkong and Shanghai Bank. Owing to the typhoon rain, the ground was under water in places, but, in spite of the adverse conditions, the game was most keenly contested by both sides.

From the kick-off, the Bank carried the play into the Club half and, a wet ball spoiling handling by the backs, the game developed into strong forward rushes, at which the Bank, led by Bredin, Moncrieff and Mackintosh, excelled. So the game continued until an attempt at passing by the Bank three saw Lee racing by two opponents to score at the corner flag.

In the second half, the Club were more together forward, and their backs made gallant efforts to open up the game. Foster at half and Shovelton at centre three showed up well and should be a decided acquisition to the Club. In this half, the Bank scored two more tries. The first came from a very pretty dribble by Morrison, and Lee scored his second try by running with fine determination.

Towards the end of the game, Halkston obtained possession near the Bank's line and went over for a try in characteristic fashion. This finished the scoring, the only other incident of note being a splendid run for the Club by Forsyth. The final whistle left the Bank winners by three tries to one.

The Bank are to be congratulated. Let us hope their sporting effort will inspire others to follow their example. The game was ably refereed by Mr. H. G. Hogarty.

The "Rugger" prospects for the coming season depend whether the Army will take a hand and turn out a team. The Association game owes much to the Army teams composed almost, if not entirely, of "other ranks." Surely the officers of the garrison, as large as ours is, must be able to support the handling code. Let us hope that this season will see them forsaking the touch line for the field of play.

ASIAN GYPSIES.

Thirty Years Trading Journey.

Queerest of all London's foreign visitors a party of Turkestan gypsies arrived at King's-cross from Norway via Hull.

There are four men, 12 women and 12 children. Their mission is to sell carpets.

Once out of the train, the women and children squatted on the platform, while the men pottered leisurely around and explained in a mixture of Gorman and Hindustani who they were and what their business was.

Most of the women were said to be wives, says a London paper, but whose was not quite clear. Three of them were said to belong to Mr. Ismail Sin Mohammed. He did not seem quite sure, but he was certainly the most unhappy-looking among the men, so probably it was true.

He wore a black turban, an old frock coat—a little green with envy—with silk facings, an indiarubber collar, a fisherman's blue jersey, a bright yellow sash, brown leather leggings and black boots.

Jewellery was abundant. One of the men—Haji Mohammed—wore two gold rings on one thumb, and several of the women had ear pendants made of heavy gold pieces and bits of tawdry glass jumbled together. One noticed, wistfully, more than one British sovereign glittering among the ravenblack locks.

All the children had beads, and one, a baby in arms, was happy in the possession of a turquoise ring through its nose. Passports being found to be in order, the party were shopped by a Government official into the station goods yard, where they squatted happily while the somewhat delicate task of finding them accommodation went forward.

After waiting in the goods station for over six hours, the party were taken in motor-van to the St. Pancras Infirmary, where they spent the night.

The gypsies left Turkestan 30 years ago, and have travelled all over Europe. For two years they lived in Berlin and Hamburg.

Later they will proceed overland to Turkestan, supporting themselves by trading on the way.

TWO-MINUTE TALKS A Daily Tonic By ROBERT POWER

"I'LL DO HIM DOWN!"

"I'll do him down," said thoughtless. It may gratify the man vengefully, "yes! If I desire to satiate a spirit of revenge. But it will not give him the voice of Hatred, burning for revenge against an enemy. It promises. Bacon never said a greater truth than his reply to a nobleman who urged him to retaliate upon a lord who had done him injury: "A man that studieth revenge, keepeth his own wounds green. Too often Revenge proves its own executioner."

To "do him down" means, to give that other person a nasty fall to overturn his plans, to dig a pit that he may fall in. But this is dangerous work, for human experience is full of examples of those who made a trap into which they have themselves fallen. Like Haman who set up his gallows fifty cubits high for Mordecai to be hanged upon—but it was Haman who dangled from the cross-bar.

"I'll do him down!" is the poisonous cry of Implacability. Yes, it is true you may have been grievously offended against. Another may have inflicted injury which is hard to bear. To turn the cheek is not human, but super-human. To burn with resentment and plot revenge is as natural as to eat and drink. But it is a bigger and a better thing to sink the vengeful feeling, and seek a reconciliation.

Foats are not confined to human beings. The virus of hatred can infect whole nations and distil in drops of blood. How often in the past have wars been made possible by the incalculable of racial hatred. Statesmen did not say in actual words, "We'll do this nation down," but this was what they meant. The spirit of revenge is fostered, and so war succeeded war.

To seek to "do a person down" may be voted clever. It will indeed possibly win the applause of the

Instead of trying to "do him down," why not attempt to "set him up?" The finest kind of revenge is to avoid imitating the injury. If you avoid provocation, you are setting an example. Old Bishop Thomas Wilson, who wrote many dry maxims, said: "A great deal more is expended on revenging injuries than it costs to bear them." "Doing him down" may seem sweet at first, but it is an act which always recoils upon itself.

There is nothing so tests the character of a human being as the attitude adopted in the face of real or supposed injury. To "get your own back" is a pose applauded by the majority. It is easy to look big and boast of retaliation. Try appearing small, with that humility which is the true mark of greatness. "A soft answer" is better than exclaiming in a truculent manner, "An eye for an eye!" "I'll do him down!" Yes, by helping him, showing the real spirit of charity, so that he will be broken down with shame and genuine contrition.

EARLIER TELEGRAMS.

PREPARING FOR AN ELECTION.

Enquiries at the Labour Party headquarters to-day show that while preparations are very active on the assumption of the imminence of an election, opinion is divided as regards the choice of issue. Mr. Ramsay MacDonald is credited with a desire to dissolve the Worker's Weekly issue, considering that the Liberal demand for an enquiry into the circumstances of the dropping of the sedition charge is intolerable and an implication against the Attorney General; but a small group of Mr. MacDonald's supporters oppose an election on that issue, expressing the opinion that the Attorney General should resign. These represent a section most anxious to fight on the Russian Treaty.

Mr. Clynes, interviewed by Reuters, said Labour had never shirked a challenge of either Liberals or Conservatives and was ready to meet the challenge of both. "Political leaders who have been compelled to swallow their brave words in the abuse of Ireland and Germany will later have to face the same ordeal as regards Russia,"—Reuters.

In an interview with Reynold's Illustrated News Mr. Ramsay MacDonald regretted that national interests were being sacrificed to party tactics and that the business of the nation was being brought to a standstill, while the Conservatives and Liberals conspired to turn out the Government on a side issue. "My select committee to which I would appeal is not ten members of the House of Commons but twenty million electors. While I do not seek an election I am not afraid of it. By creating a condition of things which no Government can accept, their action takes from the Government the authority it requires to conduct the business of the nation, both at home and abroad. It forces an election and compels us to give up at a time when I think every patriotic man should induce them to maintain the status quo. On any big issue of policy, Russia, Geneva, or anything they like to raise, we are ready to meet their challenge."—Reuters.

AMERICA AND DISARMAMENT.

In a speech at Madison Square Garden, Mr. Davis, the Democratic candidate, evoked enthusiastic cheers when he declared, "I am for disarmament. If I become President of the United States and a disarmament conference meets, America will be there."—Reuters's American Service.

Dedicating a monument in honour of American soldiers, who perished in the Great War, Mr. Coolidge reiterated the opinion that Americans, while favouring a world court and world disarmament, were "unwilling to have any Power or combination of Powers decide for them how to make up their minds."—Reuters's American Service.

Mr. Charles H. Hughes, Secretary of State, in a speech in support of Mr. Coolidge's presidency campaign said the issue was "why change?" For example, if the Democrats were permitted to administer the Government they would rewrite the tariff with all resulting confusion to commerce.

He regretted the introduction of foreign affairs into the campaign, but declared that the record of President Coolidge was so well-known that the insinuations of his detractors would recoil upon themselves. Americans favoured the reduction of armaments but must be permitted to co-operate with other nations to that end without the sacrifice of their own policies. Mr. Hughes laid stress upon the incongruity of the Democrats attacking the Government for not joining the League of Nations, while their own platform avoided immediate action in that direction by declaring for a referendum on the subject.—Reuters's American Service.

THE ANGLO-EGYPTIAN CONVERSATIONS.

Reuters learns from an Egyptian source in reference to the conclusion of the Anglo-Egyptian conversations in London, that Mr. Ramsay MacDonald yesterday informed Zaglul Pasha that it is impossible to withdraw British troops from Egypt because they were needed for the protection of the Suez Canal. Zaglul's proposal to leave the protection of the Canal to the League of Nations was not accepted. Mr. MacDonald proposed an Anglo-Egyptian alliance, to which Zaglul

The final results in the elections for the Second Chamber show only slight changes. THE HEDJAZ REBELLION.

News of King Hussein's abdication, was preceded by a message from Jeddah, stating that a Committee of leading inhabitants of Jeddah and Mecca demanded the dissolution of the Hashimite Government, headed by Hussein, and the succession of a temporary government, for the protection of the country, appointed by the Hedjazites, who were ready to conform to the orders of the whole Moslem world. They declared they did not wish to fight anyone, and appealed to the world to stop present hostilities.—Reuters.

CAMERA NEWS

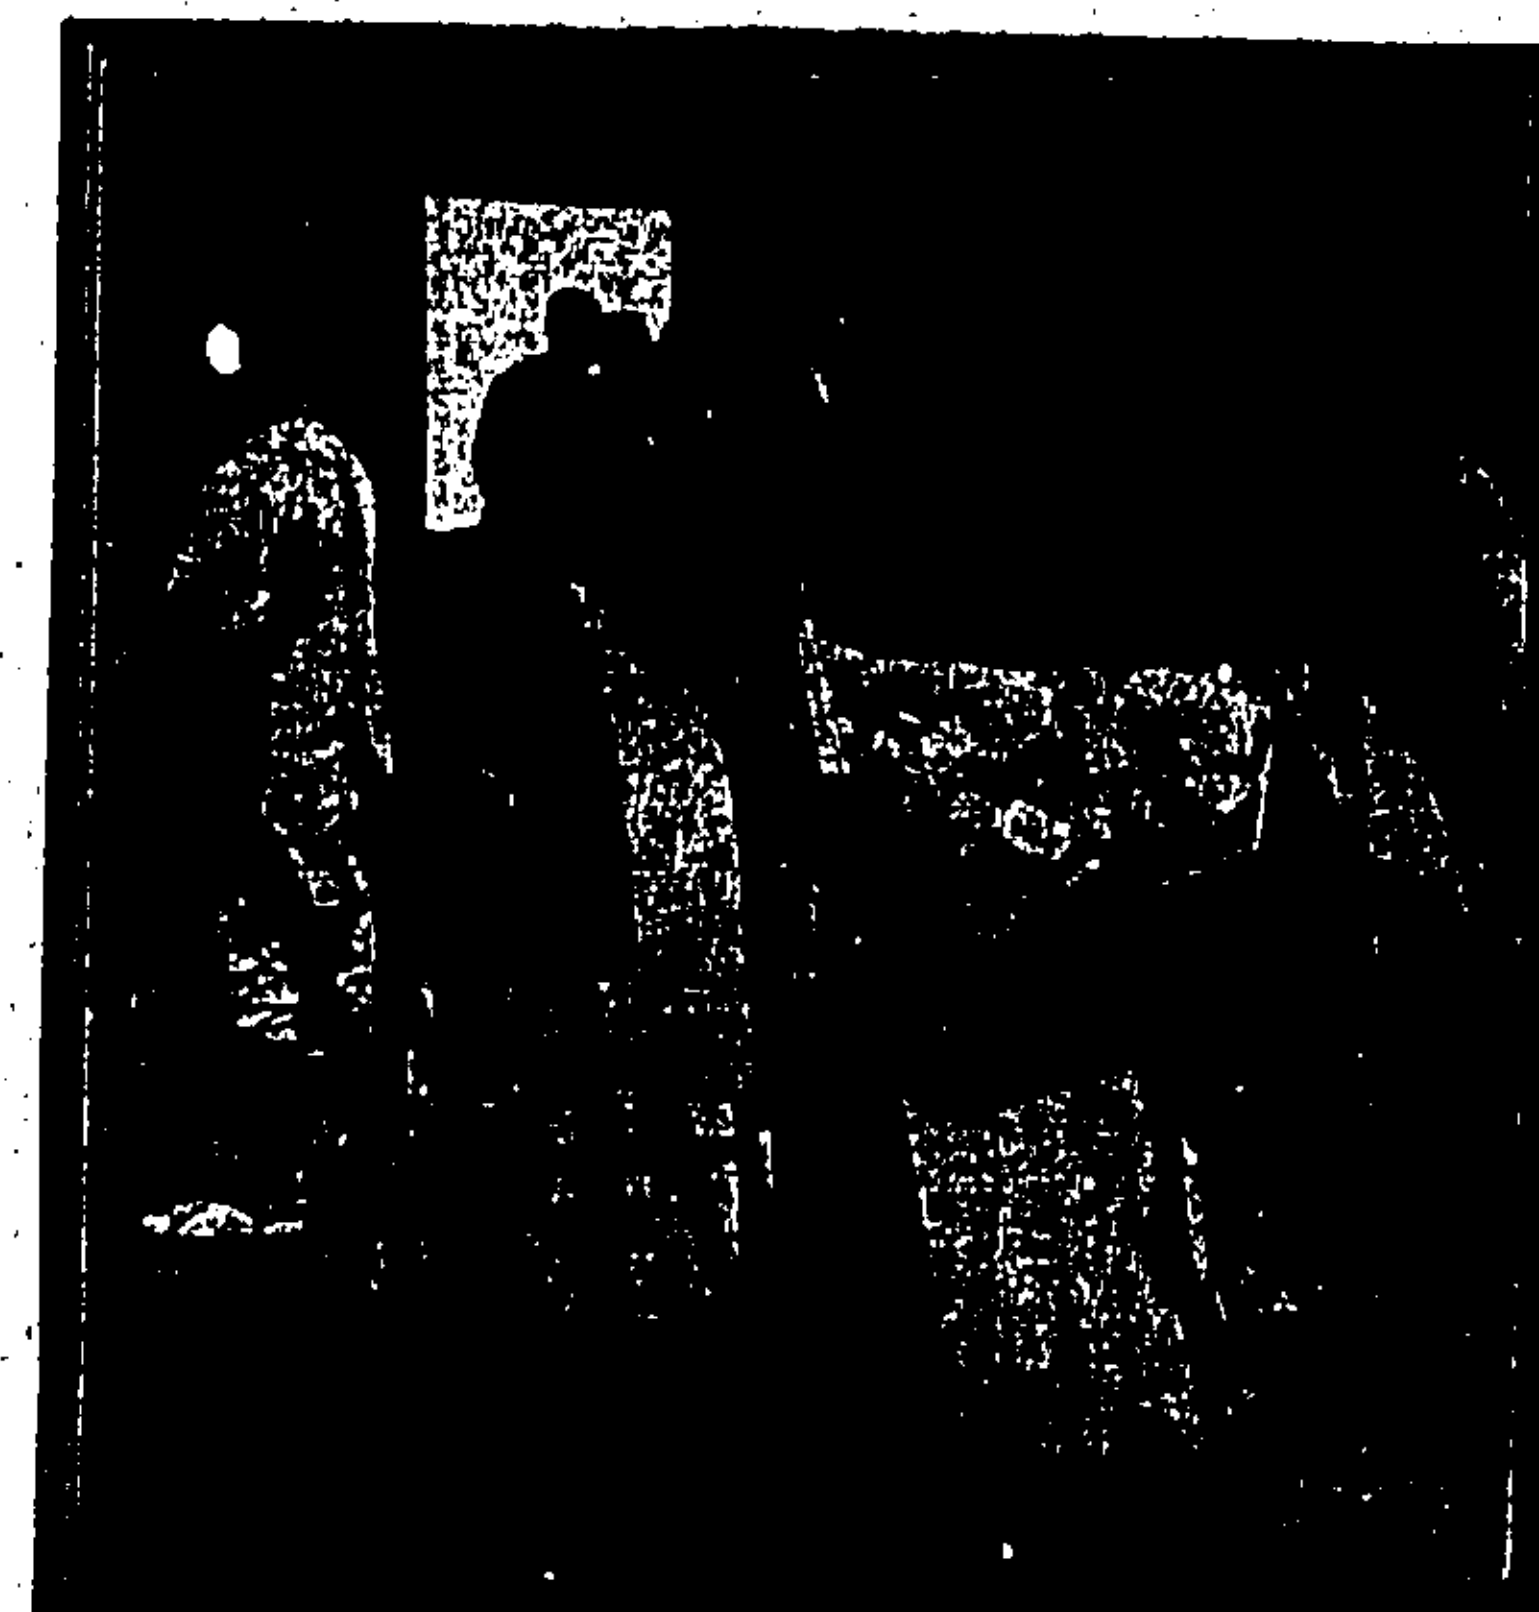

MAKING BIG GUNS.—The U. S. Secretary of the Navy accompanied by John Coolidge, son of the President, made a tour of inspection of the naval gun factory at the Washington navy yard. Rear Admiral B. F. Hutchinson is showing the secretary how the big guns are made.

FIELD GUN CAMOUFLAGE.—The Cheking army is making good use of camouflage for hiding their guns as this picture, taken outside Wangdo within a fl of the firing line, clearly shows. The guns are well protected with earthworks and the men can shelter from enemy fire in well-constructed dugouts in the gun pit.

SHANGHAI PRECAUTIONS.—The French Concession at Shanghai is strongly guarded against chance attack and recently every entry from the Siccawei Creek was closed by marines with barbed wire and heaps of rubble. The picture shows a formidable barricade on the border of the Concession.

A CHEKIANG AMMUNITION LORRY.—"Ammunition lorry" does not always mean a motor truck with steel "protecting plates" for carrying ammunition to the front. The Chekiang army uses rickshas which can be pulled along the narrow paths leading to the front line, trenches where a motor truck could not pass. This ricksha contains rifle ammunition and half a dozen legs of ham in the cover behind.

ACCEPTS NOMINATION.—Here is how President Calvin Coolidge looked as he delivered his message of acceptance after being given formal notification of his nomination as Republican presidential candidate. The formal ceremony was held at Washington at Continental Memorial Hall.
